SAINT TIKHON OF MOSCOW INSTRUCTIONS & TEACHINGS

For the American Orthodox Faithful (1898-1907)

Beloved of God,

We greet you with the blessing of the Lord and of our Founder, St. Tikhon of Moscow. Our current catalog from the Monastery Press contains our most recent publications from 2014 through Summer 2016. We consider the work offered over these last few years to be some of our most focused and dedicated in our 75 years serving the Church. As we strive to continue this ministry of spreading the Gospel through quality books and music, we thank you for your continued support and prayers. Our mission and pledge to the Church is quality and service. May God grant His abundant blessing on you as we work as co-laborers in Our Lord's vineyard.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Fr. Archimandrite Sergius

Alex Maximov is an independent scholar, and member of the parish of the Monastery Church of St. Tikhon of Zadonsk, South Canaan, PA. Dr. David C. Ford is Professor of Church History, St. Tikhon's Orthodox Seminary, South Canaan, PA.

"St. Tikhon of Moscow is the father of the contemporary Orthodox Church of America: his vision, his love, and his hope. By deeply embracing his words, we will enter into his vision which was inspired from above and through his words and instructions we will be empowered to find our salvation in our modern world."

Archim. Sergius, Abbot of St. Tikhon's Monastery

This volume of St. Tikhon's sermons and other writings, newly translated and edited by Alex Maximov and David C. Ford, provides English-speaking readers access to the words of a figure of towering importance for the Orthodox Church both in America and in Russia. Born Vasilii Ivanovich Bellavin (1865–1925), St. Tikhon was bishop of the Orthodox Church in North America from the end of 1898 until the spring of 1907, longer than any bishop between the establishment of the diocese in 1870 and the Russian Revolution.

"These words and sermons represent in a way the archpastoral diary of Vladyka, in which the main aspects in the life of the American Orthodox Church that the Archpastor paid attention to are indicated. Re-reading these "Instructions and Teachings" of His Holiness to the American flock, the pastors and those in their care, the reader involuntarily is present amidst the flow of life in the American Church, enters the many-sidedness of its parts, recalls its distant past, contemplates what was contemporary for the heirarch, and detects similarities or differences between what took place then and what exists in its present life."

St. Paul clearly states: “Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus...” (Phil 2:5.)

How do we acquire this Mind of Christ and where is it to be found? For the Orthodox Christian, salvation is the acquisition of this Mind of Christ which is to be found in the Church. This acquisition moves us from the image of God to the likeness of God; through our obedience to this call we begin to know God and this knowledge is eternal life (John 17:3). This small book hopes to begin to answer how acquiring the Mind of Christ is possible and why it is necessary in our lives today.

ANGELS & DEMONS

by Dr. Harry Boosalis

Published 2016, ISBN: 978-0-9974718-0-9
Paperback, 105 pp., 5.5x8.5, $14.99, eBook $9.99

HARRY BOOSALIS is Professor of Dogmatic Theology at St. Tikhon's Seminary in South Canaan, Pennsylvania. He has authored six St. Tikhon's Press publications including Joy of the Holy and Orthodox Spiritual Life According to the St. Silouan the Athonite.

“Professor Boosalis takes a very rich and complex tradition and makes it understandable, offering us hope from what we learn. Reading this book is frightful yet reassuring, a journey and a joy”

Archbishop Michael of New York and New Jersey

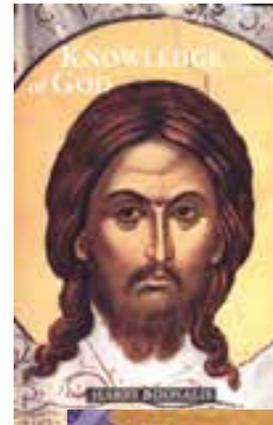

“For by Him all things were created that are in heaven and that are on earth, visible and invisible, whether Thrones or Dominions or Principalities or Powers. All things were created through Him and for Him.”
Col. 1. 16

Dr. Harry Boosalis, in this concise text, presents us with the Scriptural and Patristic teaching of the Church on the heavenly hosts of angels, the devil and his demons, and the enigma of evil.

He offers a rich deposit of Tradition in simplified language, in a clear and concise style, but with an extensive body of scholarly documentation in the footnotes.

This book is invaluable to our understanding of our faith, essential in our spiritual struggle, and so helpful in drawing us closer to Christ. It reads easily, as if the professor were speaking to us in person.

The Soul's Longing:

An Orthodox Christian Perspective on Biblical Interpretation

★★★★★ 5 Stars on Amazon

Published 2015, ISBN: 978-0-9905029-6-8,
Paperback, 321 pp., 6x9, $19.95, eBook $9.99

Dr. Mary S. Ford is Associate Professor of New Testament and Spirituality at St. Tikhon's Orthodox Theological Seminary, in South Canaan, PA. She and her husband, Dr. David C. Ford, coauthored Marriage As a Path to Holiness: Lives of Married Saints, also published by St. Tikhon's Monastery Press.

"Utilizing all that is valuable in historical-critical and related research, Dr. Mary Ford demonstrates with force and clarity just why biblical hermeneutics needs to return to the perspectives and methods of early Christian interpreters, particularly those of Eastern Church tradition."

Fr. John Breck

The Soul's Longing: An Orthodox Christian Perspective on Biblical Interpretation by Dr. Mary Ford, shows the deep connection between spiritual life and biblical interpretation in the Orthodox tradition. It makes clear the powerful effect of the interpreter's theology – especially the understanding of who Jesus Christ is – upon his or her method of biblical interpretation.

Exploring fundamental principles of traditional Christian theology, along with an historical overview, Dr. Ford reveals the close connection between interpretation and spiritual life in the Church of the early centuries. She also discusses the origins and history of many problems found in biblical scholarship today – such as the work of the notorious "Jesus Seminar."

In summary, The Soul's Longing shows why the interpretive strengths of the early Church can and should be brought into the present while retaining what is of value from biblical scholarship of the recent past.

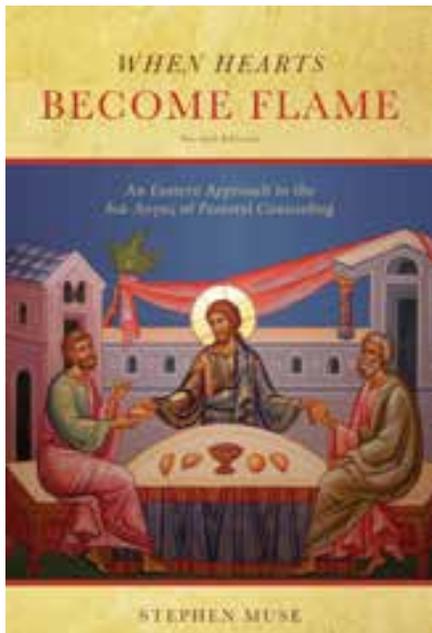

"THE book today on the Orthodox Church... Anyone who is serious about understanding the ancient Orthodox Church cannot pass up this book!"

When Hearts Become Flame

An Eastern Approach to the Dia-Logos of Pastoral Counseling

★★★★★ 4.8 Stars on Amazon

Published 2015, ISBN: 978-0-9905029-7-5,
Paperback, 318 pp., 6x9, $19.95, eBook $9.99

Rev. Dn. Stephen Muse, PhD is a pastoral counselor and marriage and family therapist who serves as Director of Education and Training at the Pastoral Institute in Columbus, Georgia where he also directs the Clergy-in-Kairos program, a personalized week-long crisis intervention and intensive retreat for clergy (and spouse) renewal.

"This book is arguably one of the best on pastoral counseling to have been published in the past twenty years. Make this a text to share among your friends. Give a copy to your favorite priest."

InCommunion

Whatever else he or she does, the pastoral counselor, same as the priest at the Divine Altar, enters into a call and response relationship, invoking God's presence and seeking to be receptive to God's activity unfolding in the here and now. The intention of pastoral counseling must be to offer Christ to the other (and receive Him) while serving at the altar of the human heart.

When Hearts Become Flame reflects on the question, "What Makes Counseling Pastoral?". This question is in light of the integration of all three aspects of our human nature in dialogue with others, occurring in such a way that Christ appears in 'between' bringing healing and transformation.

It is not enough to be emotionally warm, theoretically correct and methodologically skillful. Pastoral care and counseling involve an integrated mindful presence existentially engaged in dialogue with the other with the same vulnerability and alertness that one brings to God in prayer. Inner discernment and ascetical struggle along with existential engagement with and for others in working for a just and humane world are equally important in response to God's love given for all.

Paperback, 233 pp., 5.25x8, $19.95, eBook $9.99

Rev. Dn. Stephen Muse, PhD is Director responsible for the Pastoral Counselor Training program and Clinical Services for the D. A. & Elizabeth Turner Ministry Resource Center of the Pastoral Institute, Inc. in Columbus, Georgia. He is the author of many books including When Hearts Become Flame, published by St. Tikhon's Monastery Press.

"...an exceptional book of spiritual insights and a deeper conversation than the reader may have anticipated."

Amazon Reviewer

Being Bread is a book of 25 short anecdotes designed for thoughtful pondering. It is a book to be savored slowly, bringing us to where we are by realizing the depth of encounter with Christ that is possible in the overlooked ordinary events of our lives. Dn. Stephen offers a deep message for those who are seeking spiritual renewal and a deeper walk in Christ beyond the rote and automatic.

Being Bread is about the One who is meant to be shared among us so that we discover and live more deeply the meaning of St. Paul's words, "We who are many, share one body for we share one Bread." (1 Cor 10:17) and in so doing enter the great mystery or loving others as we are loved by Christ (1 John 13:34).

Being Bread can read together in church groups and book studies or as some couples have done, with each other, sharing their responses to the questions at the end of each story.

"Here is a book rich with insight into being able to see the extraordinary in the ordinary, the sacramental and therefore relational nature of everyone and everything -- and the consequences of this vision for how we ought to live as believers."

Disputations with Pyrrhus

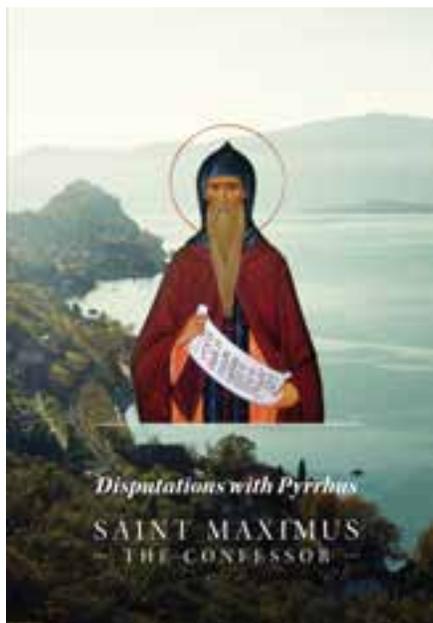

SAINT MAXIMUS

— THE CONFESSOR —

In Disputations with Pyrrhus, Saint Maximus the Confessor (A.D. 580-662) articulates the faith of apostles, detailing the perfect natures and wills of the Incarnate Logos, Jesus Christ.

Shedding light on the fullness of Christian life, Saint Maximus reveals God as One Who repeats all of the natural stages of humanity itself, but not only humanity as a whole but the stages of life of each individual human being in particular, illumining the mystery of our salvation as perfect union within Christ through His Church.

An important document combating heresies against full union of man in God, the Disputations with Pyrrhus offers invaluable insight into salvation of both man and cosmos through the Incarnate Word of God revealed to us in the Mystery of the Church.

Wisdom for Today from the Early Church: A Foundational Study

★★★★★ 5 Stars on Amazon

Published 2014, ISBN: 978-0-9905029-0-6
Paperback, 249 pp., 6x9, $18.95, eBook $9.99

Dr. David C. Ford is also the author of Women and Men in the Early Church: The Full Views of St. John Chrysostom, published by St. Tikhon's Seminary Press. And he and his wife Dr. Mary Ford have coauthored the widely popular Marriage As a Path to Holiness: Lives of Married Saints. The revised and expanded, 20th Anniversary edition of this book has been recently published by St. Tikhon's Monastery Press.

"This ten-chapter journey is by no means a dry read. He literally re-lives the moments that he is teaching, with all their drama, joys, and sorrows. He makes the pages of Church History come alive in his classroom – and it is no different in this book."

His Grace, Bishop MICHAEL (OCA)

Wisdom for Today from the Early Church: A Foundational Study provides a fascinating, inspiring, and eye-opening entranceway into the theological and spiritual riches of Christ's Church in the first five centuries of the Christian era. And it makes clear how these insights are highly relevant for our life as Orthodox Christians today, and how they can not only inspire us in our personal relationship with our LORD and all His Saints, but also how they can equip us for living and proclaiming the historic Faith in the midst of our increasingly anti-Christian society and culture.

The book addresses ten of the most important themes of the life of the Early Church including: An Orthodox Understanding of the Book of Acts; The Apostolic Fathers Teach and Encourage the Faithful; The Apologists Explain and Defend the Faith to the Surrounding Society; St. Irenaeus Meets the Challenge of the Gnostics; The Church Meets the Challenge of the Montanists; Tertullian and the Dangers of the Sectarian Mind-Set; The Canonization of the New Testament: The Church Decides; The Rise of Papal Presumption; The Holy Martyrs Live and Die for Christ; The Rise of Monasticism, the New Martyrdom; and the Wisdom of the Desert Fathers and Mothers.

St. Tikhon's Monastery recently broke new ground for Orthodox choral music in America, creating a new ensemble, the Chamber Choir of St. Tikhon's Monastery. The Chamber Choir of St. Tikhon's Monastery is an all-professional ensemble, made up of some of the finest singers in the New York area and around the country, led by the monastery's resident music director, conductor and composer Benedict Sheehan.

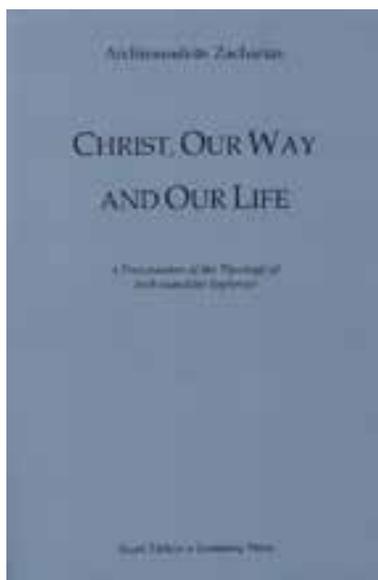

Till Morn Eternal Breaks includes newly composed and arranged sacred music in the Orthodox tradition, world-premiere recordings of some of Sheehan's liturgical works, as well as a world-premiere recording of his Triduum Paschale, a work for chorus and soloists based on medieval English poetry and poems by Gerard Manley Hopkins.

Conducted by Benedict Sheehan. Soloists Laura Soto-Bayomi, Tynan Davis, Maria Sheehan, Matthew Slipp, Nicholas Kotar, and John Michael Boyer.

"Combining the riches of Orthodox tradition and those of the modern choral world can be a challenge. It is a challenge that, once accepted, brings immense rewards, and Benedict Sheehan's music shows what these can be."

Christ, Our Way and Our Life: A Presentation of the Theology of Archimandrite Sophrony

by Fr. Archimandrite Zacharias

This book is based on my doctoral thesis, entitled The Actualization of the Hypostatic Principle in the Theology of Archimandrite Sophrony, which was submitted at the Faculty of Theology of the University of Thessalonica in 1998. I have wanted since then to proceed to a more complete presentation of Fr. Sophrony's teaching. Perhaps even now I have not succeeded fully in this aim, but I have tried at least to set out the basic themes of his theology. From the forward by Archimandrite Zacharias

Orthodox Spirituality: A Practical Guide for the Faithful and a Definitive Manual for the Scholar

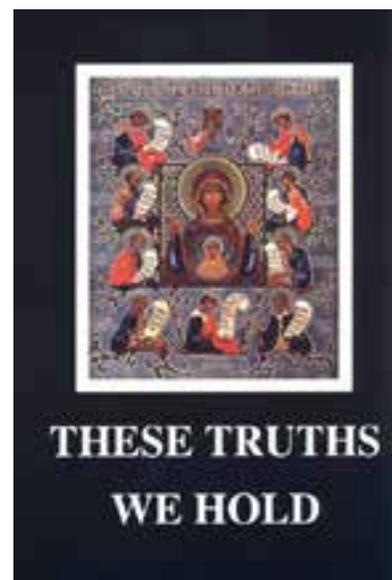

by Fr. Dumitri Staniloae

Orthodox spirituality has as its goal the deification of man and his union with God, without being merged with Him. It has as a basic conviction the existence of a personal God, who is the supreme source of radiating love. He prizes man and doesn't want to confuse him with Himself, but maintains and raises him to an eternal dialogue of love.

Fr. Dumitri Staniloae was a Romanian Orthodox priest and among the most respected Orthodox theologians of the second half of the 20th century.

Time & Man

by Georgios I. Mantzaridis

Man tends to see time as a factor in life that needs no explanation, and thinks that he knows what it is. But when he happens to ask questions about the nature of time and tries to define it, he becomes aware of his inability to do so.

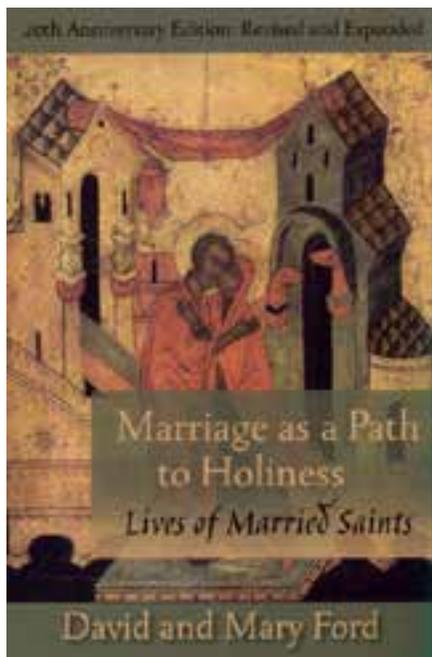

This book includes discussions on such issues as the problem of time, space and time, Christ and time, Church and time, the transfiguration of time and liturgical time – among others. In addressing such topics, the author shows how these are not simply abstract theological issues, but that they indeed affect the entire spiritual orientation of man.

Hieratikon

Office Book for Priest and Deacon

The Hieratikon from St. Tikhon's Monastery Press contains Vespers, Compline, Midnight Office, Matins, and the Hours, given in all their forms: Sunday, festal, daily, Lenten, for the Departed, and Paschal; Magnifications and Matins Prokiomena; Dismissals; Monthly calendar; Censing patterns.

All the texts needed by priest and deacon are provided, put in the context of a brief account of the singers' and readers' parts of the service, so that the clergy can use this book to follow along as a service is progressing.

The different variations of each service used throughout the year (festal, daily, Lenten, etc.) are each laid out in their own section, so there is little confusion while following the order of service. To keep the book compact, not every litany and prayer is printed in full in each section, but a page cross reference is always provided.

The Hieratikon's rubrics were carefully written to provide clear and detailed, but succinct, descriptions of the Russian liturgical practice inherited by the O.C.A. from her mother Church.

Published 2014, ISBN: 978-0-9905029-2-0, bonded leather hardcover, 336 pages, 6 x 3.75 x .75 (pocket sized), $35.00

The Hieratikon uses translations already well-known in the OCA and the wider Orthodox community in America, using the traditional style of liturgical English, and with the texts carefully compared to Greek and Slavonic for accuracy.
